

RIOTERS USE THE BOMB AND TORCH

Situation in the Champagne District of France Has Become Extremely Grave

A BOMB HURLED AT CALVARYMEN

Three Troopers Wounded and Horse Killed—Five Establishments Looted and Fired—Whole Section Aglow With Light From Blazing Wine Cellars—12,000 Troops Called Into Service.

Epernay, Department of Marne, France, April 12.—Starting developments occurred today in the rioting which immediately followed the action of the troops on the champagne question. Throughout the day and during the early hours of the evening the situation was extremely grave. A quantity of bombs was hurled at the troops, and, owing to the presence of formidable forces of troops, conditions had become somewhat settled.

Bomb Thrown at Cavalry.
The frenzy of the rioters extends all bounds, and it is feared that they will use dynamite in a large quantity. A bomb was hurled at the troops, and, owing to the presence of formidable forces of troops, conditions had become somewhat settled.

Five Establishments Burned.
After the five establishments in Epernay have been peacefully burned to the ground, after having been pillaged. The safes in these establishments were forced and the furniture and fittings were piled in heaps in the streets and set on fire. The firemen were powerless as they were driven off by the rioters.

Blazing Cellars on All Sides.
All around Epernay the country is dotted with blazing cellars, and the whole vicinity is aglow. A quantity of wine is being burned, and the flames are blowing as well as another big establishment at Epernay. Two more establishments were wrecked to-night.

ARMY CAPTAIN SHOT BY NIGHT WATCHMAN
Captain Cook Broke Into Store While Under Influence of Drink.

San Francisco, April 12.—As a result of a fight with John J. Hayes, an armed night watchman, today, Capt. Frank A. Cook, subordinate officer of the United States army, was seriously wounded in the central emergency hospital. Cook, accompanied by his wife and two children, arrived here yesterday from Manila on the transport "Albatross." When the transport was in the harbor, Cook, who was under the influence of drink, broke into the door of a store on Market street and was met by Watchman Hayes. Hayes claims that he struck Cook on the head with his club when the latter refused to leave the place. According to Cook, he seized the club and returned the blow. Hayes then fired two shots at the officer, penetrating his left lung and barely missing his heart, the other going wild. Police men then entered the place and separated the men. Cook was taken to the central emergency hospital, where Dr. G. M. Terrill probed for the bullet. While Dr. Terrill was operating on Cook, his wife and two children, who were with him, were in the campaign against the Apache chief, who was shot dead. At that time Cook was a lieutenant of the fourth cavalry and Terrill was a post surgeon.

TESTIMONY IN DIVORCE SUITS OF THE CRAGINS
Abandonment Charged on One Side and Cruelty on the Other.

Newark, N. J., April 12.—Testimony was heard here today in the suit for divorce brought by William B. Cragin, the well known tennis player, and the counter suit filed by his wife, Mrs. Marie Cragin. The charges are abandonment; she charges cruelty and "unreasonable temper." Mrs. Cragin, the niece of James Donald, a New York banker, and married Cragin in November, 1901. Cragin testified today that his wife had not lived with him since June, 1908. On cross examination he admitted that he had not sent her any stated amount of money or any money at all for the support of their child. The case goes on tomorrow.

REPRESENTATIVE NOBLE DIES AT HARTFORD.
Was Taken Suddenly Ill at the Capitol on March 29.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Hartford, April 12.—Representative John H. Noble died at the Hartford hospital at his residence, being the third member of the house to pass away since the general assembly was convened in January.

Mr. Noble was taken seriously and suddenly ill at the capitol on March 29, and after a brief illness passed away in one of the retiring rooms, but a careful examination by the physicians indicated a critical condition, and he was hurried to the hospital, where operations were immediately performed for gallstones and appendicitis. Monday he was reported as sinking, but late in the day he rallied and there was renewed hope for his recovery. His strength had again begun to return, and finally ended his struggle for life.

Deep sympathy was expressed at the capitol Wednesday. The deceased had won a place at Hartford and was a man of high character.

A Native of Kingston, N. Y.
John H. Noble of Old Lyme was born in Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 7, 1856, the son of Robert and Margaret Noble. The noble family has lived in the public schools at Lyme and lived on his father's farm until he was 21 years of age.

Mr. Noble was a member of the house in 1897 and in his home town had a large number of admirers. He was a member of the legislature, serving as a member of the committee on joint resolutions and as a member of the board of the latter committee. He was again returned to represent his town in the present session, and was very popular and recognized as among the very efficient and capable legislators.

Mr. Noble was a member of the Pythagoras lodge, No. 48, E. and M. past master of the local lodge, No. 88, O. O. F. and a member of Old Lyme grange, No. 162. He was an associate of the Odd Fellows' home of Connecticut. Two years ago Governor Woodcock named him as a member of a commission of three to inquire into the advisability of the state's assuming control of the Connecticut river ferry.

It is understood that the shortage as alleged in the Banta estate is not due to any direct cause, but the part of the former mayor, but to his loss of the name of his name to friends.

It is said that he had induced many notes which he has lately been obliged to pay.

Last Saturday Anna Eliza Mackey secured a warrant in Saratoga county for Mr. Clute, charging him with contempt of court in failing to pay over to her $146 due her from the Banta estate. It was this execution the sheriff was about to serve when the former mayor killed her.

Mr. Clute was born in this city in 1847 of a long line of Holland Dutch and was elected mayor in 1890 and again in 1895 and in 1905, serving six years in all.

KILLED MERCHANT WHO INSULTED HER
Mrs. Lewis Emptied Contents of Shotgun Into Dalton Meadows.

Somerset, Ky., April 12.—Mrs. Maggie Lewis shot and killed Dalton Meadows, a wealthy merchant and timber dealer, near Greenwood today. Mrs. Lewis used a double-barreled shotgun and fired both barrels.

There was no witness to the killing, which occurred in a room in Mrs. Lewis' home. The woman surrendered, saying that she was compelled to shoot Meadows because he had insulted her.

The victim leaves a widow and several children.

AMENDMENT TO LAW ON DEATH CERTIFICATE.
Physician Last in Attendance Must Make Official Report.

Hartford, Conn., April 12.—The law relating to death certificates was amended by the house this afternoon so that it provides that a physician in attendance last upon a dying person, or within 24 hours of his death, shall make a report upon a state board of health report blank.

In case no physician is in attendance, the deceased person, or in case of inability of the attending physician to make out a certificate, a near relative may procure the certificate from the health officer of the place.

Silent Tribute To Tom Johnson

PAID BY NEARLY 200,000 CITIZENS IN A DRIZZLING RAIN.

BODY MOVED TO BROOKLYN
Streets Lined With People as Simple Cortege Passed—Floral Piece Contributed by Cleveland Newboys.

Cleveland, O., April 12.—Braving the elements and a drizzling rain, an immense throng of people, variously estimated from 150,000 to 200,000, stood in the streets today, especially downtown, and paid silent tribute to the memory of Tom L. Johnson as his body was conveyed from the family apartments in the Ketchikan on Euclid avenue to the union depot.

Family Occupied Private Car.
The train bearing the funeral party departed at 11:30 a. m. for the Lake Shore railroad and will arrive in New York at 8:11 a. m. Thursday.

The casket was placed in the baggage car and the mourners and friends occupied the private car Livingston.

Hearse and Four Carriages.
The Rev. Harris R. Cooley, a lifelong friend of Mr. Johnson, officiated at the brief funeral services in the family apartments this afternoon. At the house, the procession passed down the streets lined with people.

Long before the cortege left the Johnson home the streets were lined with people, despite the inclement weather. The procession passed down the streets the men removed their hats and the women bowed their heads.

For five minutes, during which time the cortege passed the city hall, where Mr. Johnson had his office, and the stores in the downtown district suspended business. The courts were also adjourned and municipal business generally was suspended.

Hundreds of Floral Tributes.
Hundreds of floral tributes were received from far and near, among them being pieces from the Cuyahoga county democratic committee, the Detroit, Mich., fire department, the Cleveland highway and the state democratic committee.

Movement for "Johnson Park."
The movement for a memorial was given further impetus today when a meeting of the city council plans for a new city playground to be known as "Johnson Park."

A Champion of Playgrounds.
"When I die I hope the people will make a playground over my body. I would rather have the children romp on my grave than a hundred monuments."

This was the statement often made by Mr. Johnson, wherein he said the pallbearers named for the funeral in Brooklyn, which will be held probably Thursday afternoon, will be John D. Brown, Jr., Ben T. Cable, Lincoln Stephens, A. J. Moxham, Henry George, August Lewis and Philip A. Brown.

LOWELL WOMAN HAS FORT SUMMER FLAG.
Was Presented to Her Brother During the War.

Lowell, Mass., April 12.—The flag which flew over Fort Sumter when General Beauregard began the Civil war operations on the federal fort, fifty years ago today is thought to be in the possession of Miss Eliza Cowley of this city.

While in Charleston during the war her brother Charles, now dead, was presented with the flag, and that it had always remained in the Cowley family.

Charles Cowley was judge advocate on Admiral Dahlgren's fleet, and was killed in the attack on Fort Fisher during the latter days of the war. Her brother, Mrs. Cowley, died in 1905.

The flag was the one which Major Anderson, the federal commander of the fort, displayed at the time of the surrender.

An effort is being made to have the flag displayed here on Patriots' day (April 19).

DECAPITATED WHILE "JUMPING A FREIGHT."
Maiden Killed by Coming Into Contact With a Bridge.

New York, April 12.—John Grant of 47 Clifton street, Malden, Mass., was killed last night while "jumping a freight" on the Boston and Albany railroad.

Mr. Grant was pushing a freight car, No. 19 Green street, New Haven, on a westbound New York Central fast freight train, when he was struck by a bridge.

His head was in contact with a section of the University bridge bridge and he was decapitated. Mr. Grant just managed to save himself.

Grant's death was told today in police court by McNulty, who said the New Haven man was arrested for "stealing a ride." McNulty was discharged after he had told his story.
